

NOV 14 2004 WBGO CO-HOSTING SONG LIST

#	ARTIST	SONG (Composer/Lyricist)	CD TITLE (Year recorded)	COMMENTS
1	Chris Connor (w/M. Ferguson)	"Summertime" (George Gershwin)	"Double Exposure" (1960)	My favorite Jazz singer from 1960
2	Johnny Hartman (w/John Coltrane)	"My One & Only Love" (G.Wood/R.Mellin)	"John Coltrane Johnny Hartman" (1963)	Classic pairing of Male voice and saxophone
3	Lorez Alexandria	"My One & Only Love" (G.Wood/R.Mellin)	"Alexandria the Great" (1963)	A very underrated singer
4	Frank Sinatra (w/Duke Ellington)	"All I Need is the Girl" (S.Sondheim/J.Styne)	"Francis A-Edward K" (1967)	Dedicating to my late Father, a big Sinatra Fan
5	Etta Jones	"Thru a Long & Sleepless Night" (Gordon/Newman)	"Something Nice" (1961)	Dedicating to my Mom, who was also born in Aiken SC
6	Freddy Cole	"Circle of Love" (Abbey Lincoln)	"Circle of Love" (1993)	Nat's very talented younger singer-pianist brother
7	Carol Sloane	"Little Girl Blue" (R.Rogers/L.Hart)	"Out of the Blue" (1962)	One of the purest voices in Jazz
8	Grady Tate	"Windmills of Your Mind" (Michel LeGrand)	"Windmills of Your Mind" (1968)	Marvelous drummer, who's an extraordinary singer
9	Rebecca Parris	"You'll See" (Carroll Coates)	"Love Comes & Goes" (1991)	Dynamic vocalist from Boston area
10	The Flamingos	"I'm in the Mood for Love" (J.McHugh/D.Fields)	"Flamingo Serenade" (1959)	My introduction to "The Great American Songbook"
11	Aretha Franklin	"Until the Real Thing Comes Along" (S.Cahn/L.Freeman)	"Aretha Franklin Sings Standards" (1963)	Originally on her classic "Laughing on the Outside" LP
12	Joyce Breach & Richard R. Bennett	"Manhattan in the Rain" (Duncan Lamont)	"Lovers After All" (1993)	Poignantly dramatic song written by British saxophonist Duncan Lamont
TOTAL TIMING OF PREFERRED SONGS		48:05		